

Some see a list of partners who helped New York's public schools this year. We see an Honor Roll.

PENCIL would like to honor all those who help build better public schools in New York. By lending their unique talents, professionals from across the city are partnering with principals to create real change in our schools. Together they are finding new ways for students to learn, teachers to teach, and leaders to stand tall. In short, they are transforming schools and changing lives.
